

OUR COMMUNITY: Engaging to Move Forward

Please join us for a guided conversation among MSU employees related to current events and climate on campus. This opportunity, with trained facilitators from the regional Facilitator's Guild, will allow attendees to provide the context of where they see the university community now and productively discuss ideas for moving forward. All faculty, staff, postdocs, and graduate students are welcome and encouraged to come together for these events. Four sessions will be held, and we hope one will fit your schedule:
